EMILY SPENCER HEDGES'S TIME AT ST GEORGE:

During my time at St George, I felt there were lots of opportunities to get involved in things that I wouldn't have been offered otherwise. An example of this was a course I did with Royal South Hants hospital as the School's Health Ambassador in Year 8 and 9 which allowed me to promote healthy habits and eating around the school. I have the opportunity to work with the canteen staff to change their menus and even got an award for all my efforts! I was also allowed the chance to be deputy head girl – organising the prom and the year book were probably my favourite roles as it gave me a chance to work with the whole year group. I will always be grateful to my English teacher who always pushed me out of my comfort zone and made me believe in myself. The school taught me independence and the skills I now use all the time to allow me to study at university.
