JOHN McCORMACK'S TIME AT ST GEORGE:

My favourite memories of St George are playing football in the playground and making the friends who I still am very close to now. I was very active in school so GCSE PE was my favourite lesson; the teacher was very friendly and made the content very engaging! St George prepared me for life after school through it's teaching of independence – especially the homework set. This really helped me transition into further education and didn't make the leap too daunting. Being a sports captain taught me the important of team work and leadership – skills which I value today. Looking back being the football team captain and leading the team to St George's first ever win of the Hampshire cup was my proudest moment! If I could go back to St George, I would not take my time there for granted.
